WELCOME

Claire O'Mahony
Solicitor, Head of the Diploma Centre
c.omahony@lawsociety.ie

Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to the Diploma Centre Prospectus for 2024/2025. We are delighted to open this new academic year with a diverse range of award-winning courses that includes certificates, diplomas, master's programmes, and a Professional Doctorate in Law.

As ever, our commitment is to enhance the skills and opportunities of our learners. This autumn, we are excited to launch a suite of certified micro-credentials to the profession. These new courses enable self-paced learning for a range of specialised areas, with the capacity to stack several micro-credentials, which lead to a greater award – that is, a certificate or diploma. Further details on this exciting new initiative are available on page 4.

We are also proud to add a new Certificate in Legal Skills for Legal Secretaries to our portfolio and believe it will add substantial value for participants and indeed their firms (see page 23).

A look back at the past year shows that 1,192 professionals chose to study with us on 33 courses, and 475 trainee solicitors chose our advanced elective courses. Our blended-learning options continued to attract participants from all over Ireland and internationally.

The Diploma Centre won its fourth award in five years, with our Diploma in Aviation Leasing and Finance scooping Best Learning/ Professional Development Programme at the Association and Institutes Awards 2024.

It was the tenth year that we offered our popular Massive Open Online Course (MOOC) and, in 2024, our MOOC on Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) attracted 3,500 participants from 78 countries. In addition to this, we successfully relaunched the international excellence programme Legal Skills through English for our international lawyers in summer 2024.

On behalf of the Law Society of Ireland and the Diploma Centre, I would like to thank you most sincerely for your continued support and wish you every success in your future studies.

Claire O'Mahony,

LLM EMPLOYMENT LAW IN PRACTICE

The LLM Employment Law in Practice is specifically designed for those who have completed our Diploma in Employment Law. Uniquely, the LLM provides participants with the opportunity of using the diploma as a building block to achieve a further recognised academic qualification. The award of the LLM requires 180 credits – the Diploma in Employment Law provides 120 credits, and the research-based dissertation then provides the remaining 60 credits required.

The programme begins with an induction day, followed by a self-paced online module, while researching and writing a dissertation on an agreed employment law topic. Candidates undertake in-depth study of the topic under individual tutor supervision, with supervisors drawn from a panel of employment law experts, comprising both internal Law Society staff and senior external practitioners/academics.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Those who have completed the Diploma in Employment Law are eligible to apply for the LLM Employment Law in Practice. Please note that places on this course are limited.

LLM ADVANCED LEGAL PRACTICE

This course is specifically designed for those who are qualified solicitors. The LLM provides participants with the opportunity of using their solicitor qualification as a building block to achieve a further recognised academic qualification. The award of LLM requires 180 credits – the solicitor qualification already provides 120 credits towards this and the research-based dissertation then provides the remaining 60 credits required.

This LLM programme focuses on legal research and coherent presentation of legal research in a written form. The dissertation is the sole assessed element of the course and the topic of study is of your choosing, but generally must relate to an area of Irish law.

The dissertation module includes the following units of study:

- Finding the research idea,
- Developing the research idea,
- Methods and methodology,
- Literature review.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Applicants must either be:

- Qualified as a solicitor in this jurisdiction, or
- Enrolled on the PPC at the same time as enrolment on the LLM Advanced Legal Practice.

LEEDS

PROFESSIONAL DOCTORATE IN LAW

The Professional Doctorate in Law is offered in partnership with the Northumbria University Law School and is specifically designed for qualified solicitors. It is a part-time programme structured to facilitate those in full-time employment. The programme is designed to provide a structured and supportive learning experience that will enhance a solicitor's theoretical understanding of their profession and will assist in the development of practice, through critical insight and evaluation, building on academic and research skills acquired via formal subject delivery and the doctoral research subsequently conducted.

The research may be doctrinal, perhaps in a practice-based area such as criminal justice and evidence, or the law in action in areas such as human rights or data collection and privacy or legal education. Those who complete the doctorate will have made a significant and original contribution to the creation and interpretation of a body of knowledge and be at the forefront of practice development. The programme aims to enable candidates to:

- Acquire a range of research skills and to be able to apply these to the conceptualisation, design, and implementation of a project, adjusting design in the light of unforeseen problems,
- Be able to translate ideas into a form understandable by and meaningful to their profession,
- Produce a thesis portfolio of original quality in the professional area,
- Disseminate/publish that research and its outcomes to the professional audience.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

The programme is open only to Irish-qualified lawyers and is designed for two kinds of candidate – first, those with professional experience and a master's degree within the last five years, or those with professional experience but without a master's degree.

MICRO-CREDENTIALS

COMING SOON

We are delighted to offer this initiative in 2025. We are aware of the demands to keep abreast of legal changes, and these new short, flexible courses will enable participants to do just that. Completing a micro-credential provides a recognised accreditation, and the knowledge gained can add real value to the participant's career and also to their firm.

TP Kennedy,
Director of Education
at the Law Society of Ireland

In 2025, we are excited to launch a new approach to learning at the Law Society – micro-credentials. A suite of these new bite-sized courses, on a range of topics such as ESG, mediation and more will be available to the profession in the coming months.

Micro-credentials are short, stand-alone accredited courses designed to offer maximum accessibility and flexibility for busy working professionals. They are delivered using the blended-learning model and allow for self-paced learning.

The advantage of completing micro-credentials is that each one can be 'stacked' to lead to a greater award, in time.

The completion of two micro-credentials results in the award of a certificate and the completion of four leads to an award of a diploma.

Law Society micro-credentials will offer an opportunity to study new topics, to upskill in evolving legal developments, and to receive accreditation for each subject you undertake!

Further information, including specific topic information, course dates and how to apply will be added to the website shortly.

To register your interest for this exciting new initiative, please contact the Diploma Centre by emailing diplomateam@lawsociety.ie

DIPLOMA COURSES

An intensive postgraduate diploma spread over eight modules, this course is designed for those who require an introduction to the discipline of law in a number of core areas. This course is unique, in that it integrates academic theory with the practice of law.

Students can choose between a one-year or two-year option of study to best suit their needs. Those students who select the two-year option generally elect to study two modules per semester. Our innovative blended-learning approach affords ultimate flexibility in terms of accessing our course, and this may appeal to those who are working or based outside Dublin while undertaking the diploma.

MODULES

Semester 1 (September – January)

Module 1: Constitutional law

Module 2: Criminal law

Module 3: Contract law

Module 4: Tort

Semester 2 (February – May)

Module 5: Company law

Module 6: EU law

Module 7: Property law

Module 8: Equity or employment law

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

The diploma is open to non-law graduates from any discipline or suitable non-graduates with a demonstrable level of work experience in the area of law. It can act as a gateway course for those who are thinking of commencing the solicitor qualification.

DIPLOMA IN TRUST AND ESTATE PLANNING

Offered jointly by the Law Society and the Society of Trust and Estate Practitioners (STEP), the course has been designed by practitioners with specialist expertise to give a practical insight into key estate planning, legal, and tax-based concerns for private clients. The focus of the course is to enable successful candidates to advise clients on all aspects of the creation of wills, the operation of trusts, associated tax implications, and overall estate planning for clients. Practical in its approach, this course provides students with real-life situations that practitioners face and real solutions to problems encountered.

MODULE

Module 1: Course introduction

- Lifetime and estate planning,
- Legal and tax principles.

Module 2: Taxation issues

- CGT, income tax, stamp duty, CAT,
- Double taxation agreements.

Module 3: Lifetime and estate planning

- Passing of value on death,
- Lifetime gifting,
- Wealth planning structures,
- Financial planning.

Module 4: Trust drafting

- Requirements of a valid trust,
- Classification of trusts,
- Drafting an effective trust deed.

Module 5: Administration of trusts

- Office of trustee and trustee powers,
- Breach of trust,
- Tax issues in trusts.

Module 6: Will drafting

- Testamentary capacity,
- Solicitors' duty of care,
- Assisted decision-making.

Module 7: Administration of estates

- Applying for the grant,
- Litigation,
- Distribution of assets.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

The diploma is intended for those who have experience in the areas of wills, trusts, estate planning, probate, and the administration of estates in Ireland. To participate, you must have relevant work experience of at least one year and one or more of the following qualifications: solicitor, barrister, or another professional qualification deemed eligible by the Law Society and STEP.

The diploma is well-rounded and it really gave me confidence in my knowledge and skills. The lecturers involved were true experts in their fields. I found the content really interesting and practical – the balance between the academic merit of the topics and the practical application was especially noticeable. As a solicitor, I specialise in the area of trust and estate planning and I still have copies of my study and lecture notes by my desk. Any communication I had with the course coordinators and the Law Society was seamless. On a personal level, I think this diploma in particular is an excellent way of meeting colleagues.

DIPLOMA IN JUDICIAL SKILLS AND DECISION-MAKING

This diploma will provide participants with case-management leadership skills and practical training on how to run a case in any forum. It will also prepare participants for adjudicatory and tribunal roles and will explore the skills needed to preside over various forums. Practical workshops on arriving at a determination and drafting judgments will be facilitated by means of case studies.

An interactive online module on mediation will take a look at the challenges arising from integrating the mediation process with the legal system, examine key mediation skills, and give students an insight into how the Mediation Act 2017 affects traditional court-based proceedings.

MODULES

Module 1: The exercise of judicial skills and decision-making

- Ethical considerations; types of judicial roles/quasi-judicial bodies,
- Understanding and managing the trial process,
- Rules of evidence from the decision-maker's perspective.

Module 2: Mediation, managing proceedings, and administering justice

- Mediation overview from a judicial perspective,
- The effect of the Mediation Act 2017.

Module 3: Written judgments and decision-making skills

- Drafting written judgments,
- Proceedings involving litigants-in-person,
- Assessing credibility; assessing expert evidence.

Module 4: The social context of law

- Cultural diversity in Ireland,
- Independence and accountability,
- Equality legislation and inclusion,
- Consistency in sentencing,
- Vulnerable clients or witnesses.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This course is suitable for solicitors, barristers, and other relevant professionals who wish to develop the skill set necessary for adjudicatory, tribunal, and board roles, or the skills necessary to preside over various forums.

The course was very well-run and covered a wide range of relevant topics from judicial independence to unconscious bias, the duties of boards, and drafting. Lectures were delivered by existing and former members of the judiciary, and these were both engaging and insightful. Much of what I learned about the judicial and quasi-judicial decision-making process has already benefitted me in my litigation practice in the CSSO.

CERTIFICATE IN PUBLIC LEGAL EDUCATION

The Law Society of Ireland actively supports public legal education (PLE) projects through a series of initiatives and engagement with solicitors, trainees, and the public. PLE aims to increase awareness of the law by teaching people about our legal system and how law has an impact on society, so they can better exercise their legal rights and responsibilities.

This certificate aims to develop the skills of solicitors to run an effective public legal education programme in their community, based on the pedagogical approach and learner-centred methodologies of Street Law.

The steps involved for interested solicitors are:

- 1) Begin to develop your idea around a programme,
- 2) Apply for a place at our orientation training weekend on 27-29 September,
- 3) Implement and evaluate your chosen programme and fulfil the course requirements.

WHO SHOULD APPLY?

This course is suitable for solicitors who are interested in running an effective public legal education programme in their community.

WHAT OUR PAST STUDENTS SAY

I had considered doing the Diploma in Sports Law for a few years but was finally nudged into it by my business partner. It took a bit of time to get back into the routine of attending lectures, even if remotely and on demand, but the course content was very interesting and the speakers very engaging, so it never felt like a chore. The in-person events were a great opportunity to get to know many of my fellow classmates and make some important new connections. I was delighted I took the diploma and am looking forward to using that new knowledge in practice.

Stefan O'Connor, Partner, Mannion Solicitors

Diploma in Sports Law student

The diploma afforded a unique opportunity to delve deep into the insolvency realm. By undertaking the course, I have gained a comprehensive and practical understanding of the procedures available to both individuals and distressed companies, in the event of an insolvency situation. As a real estate solicitor, undertaking this course has greatly expanded my knowledge, thereby empowering me to comfortably advise on commercial areas involving liquidators, receivers and examiners by applying the knowledge acquired.

Gemma Casey, Associate,
Flynn O'Driscoll

Diploma in Insolvency Law and Corporate Restructuring student

The LLM Advanced Legal Practice has given a tremendous boost to my career. I really enjoyed the process of legal research, and I was very proud to make a small contribution to the corpus of what is fast becoming an important area of criminal and family law. Since obtaining my LLM, I have been invited to speak at several events as a specialist on coercive control. These events have greatly increased my profile as a family lawyer and, in turn, broadened my client base. I would not have had these opportunities without having enrolled on the LLM Advanced Legal Practice.
