

Law Society of Ireland Access Programme

Terms and Conditions

Background

The Law Society Access Scholarship Programme has been operating successfully since September 2001. The programme aims to assist students from socio-economically disadvantaged backgrounds to gain access to professional legal education. It is contributing to the creation of a broader spectrum of solicitors, which is vital in promoting a legal profession that reflects the diversity of the society it serves.

What is on offer?

The Programme offers reduced or waived exam and course fees as well as maintenance funding from the FE-1 exams stage through to the completion of the Professional Practice Courses (PPC)<sup>1</sup>.

Once accepted onto the Programme, students may be eligible for a fee waiver on exam fees for four Final Examination – First Part (FE-1) exam sittings (students can register to sit up to eight FE-1 papers at each sitting).

Please be advised that there is a cap on Access student numbers for each FE-1 sitting and Professional Practice Course. Should the maximum be reached, students may be required to wait until the next FE-1 sitting or PPC as applicable.

Application Process

1. Applicants are required to complete a detailed application form available online from the Law Society of Ireland's website (www.lawsociety.ie) or from the Access Programme, Law School, Law Society of Ireland, Blackhall Place, Dublin 7 (access@lawsociety.ie).
2. Applicants are interviewed by the Access Programme of the Law Society of Ireland.
3. Final decision regarding eligibility is determined by an Access Scholarship Programme sub-committee.
4. Places are allocated according to budget and a waiting list may apply.

Eligibility

Applications are considered from candidates who have completed degree programmes, with the support of an Access Programme, in one of the following higher education institutes:

- University of Limerick.
- Dublin City University.
- Institutes of Technology.
- National University of Ireland, University College Cork.
- National University of Ireland, Galway.
- National University of Ireland, Maynooth.
- University of Dublin, Trinity College.
- University College Dublin.

In very exceptional circumstances, candidates who can demonstrate that they meet equivalent socio-economic criteria but did not participate in a third level access programme may be considered. Priority however will be given to those who did participate in a third level access programme.

All candidates will need to have completed formal legal education and/or relevant third level qualification prior to application to the Access Programme. Graduates of disciplines other than Law (e.g. History, English, etc.) and Law graduates from other jurisdictions are required to have completed a minimum of a Diploma in Irish Law which covers the eight subjects examined in the FE-1 exam before they can be assessed for the Access Scholarship Programme. This is to ensure that students are adequately prepared for those exam papers.

Fee Waivers & Financial Support<sup>2</sup>

Final Examinations – First Part (FE-1 Exam)

- Minor funding may be provided to assist with some of the costs that are directly related to undertaking the FE-1 exam papers. Students may receive financial assistance /be exempted from FE-1 exam fees up to a maximum of four sittings (ranging from one to eight exams at any one time). This applies to exams taken within a two - year period of joining the Access Programme. Any extension to this timescale will require a review of the student's financial circumstances and a re-assessment of the student's eligibility for the Programme. Students should apply to the FE-1 Section to take the FE-1 exam papers (see FE-1 Exam | Entrance Exam To The Law Society of Ireland ) for further information).
- Should a student receive maintenance funding and not sit the FE-1 exam paper(s), the Law Society may require reimbursement.
- Should a student register for FE-1 exam paper(s) and not sit them, the Law Society may request to be reimbursed - unless there are certified medical grounds for not sitting the exams. Failure to formally notify your intention to be absent or your reasons for absence to the Access programme or the FE-1 Section will result in that sitting being counted as one of the four fee-waived sittings.
- Receipts must be submitted in respect of all travel and accommodation expenses being claimed.
- Funds are at the discretion of the Law Society of Ireland and may vary depending on applicant's personal circumstances.

Professional Practice Course Fees and Maintenance

- Minor funding may be awarded to assist with maintenance costs that are directly related to undertaking the Professional Practice Course. Each application for maintenance funding is assessed on a case by case basis. Funds are at the discretion of the Law Society of Ireland and may vary depending on applicant's personal circumstances.
- For further information on PPC fees and funding please visit the following area on the Law Society website: <https://www.lawsociety.ie/education--cpd/Trainees/PPC-Courses/Fees--Funding>

Admission to the Roll of Solicitors

- The fee for admission to the Roll of Solicitors is waived for Law Society Access Scholarship students.

Other Resources

Assistance with procuring a training contract

There are a number of practical ways in which the Law School assists Access students to approach securing a traineeship competently and confidently.

Seminars

Free places are offered to all Access FE-1 students to attend the annual 'How to Find a Training Contract' seminar. Inputs are delivered by the Law Society's Training Executive, Career Guidance Executive and experienced lawyers in practice. Please see <https://www.lawsociety.ie/education--cpd/Become-a-Solicitor/find-a-training-contract> for further information.

Mentoring

Appointments are available with Ian Ryan (access@lawsociety.ie) at all stages of the Access Programme to help build confidence and communication skills. These can be an important source of support for students who may feel quite isolated from family or community as a result of their chosen career path.

One-to-one appointments are available with the Law Society's Training Executive focusing on CV advice and career guidance. Once Access students commence their period of in-office training, a supportive visit from the Training Executive can be arranged.

Peer Support

Students may occasionally be put in direct contact with other Access students or qualified solicitors who participated in the Access Scholarship Programme.

Materials

FE-1 Books

Access students may borrow books from the FE-1 Syllabus reading lists, for each subject, from the Law Society Library. Long-term loans of books from the recommended reading lists - which are the core texts - will be confined to one text per subject. Short-term loans of core texts and of books on the supplemental reading lists can be arranged with library staff. Contact the library directly (libraryenquire@lawsociety.ie) to borrow books.

The Access Programme has a limited number of copies of the Companies Acts & EU Treaties & Legislation 2018-2019 for lending directly to Access Programme participants. You can contact the Law School Reception directly (01-6724802/ access@lawsociety.ie) to arrange to borrow a copy of either.

FE-1 exam papers and examiners' reports extending back over a period of four years are available free of charge to Access students, from the Law School Reception desk (lawschool@lawsociety.ie). Additional Exam papers/reports may be purchased if required.
